Irregular Trend In Broad Trading On Curb Market

Some of Oils Turn Reactionary, but Others Hold Steady: Industrials Also Lack Definite Tendency

Prices moved irregularly in broader trading on the curb market yesterday, one of the more active oils turning reactionary. Some of the prominent industrials also lacked a definite trend. Standard Oil of Indiana gained a fraction, but Atlantic Lubes and International Petroleum eased off slightly. Salt Creek Producers was firmer. Marathon sagged a fraction. Keystone Ranger fell back slightly with the other oilers.

Texas Gulf Sulphur was active again, but worked slightly higher, and Gil-tless Safety Razor advanced more than two points, but Glen Alden Coal turned up slightly.
